PREFACE.

—ooo—

KILMARNOCK though now the greatest manufacturing town in Ayrshire is of no note in history; even of him from whom it derives its name tradition furnishes us with but a frail memorial. St. Marnock is said to have died here about the beginning of the fourth century. But Kilmarnock is unnoticed in the annals of our country until nearly a thousand years later, and even then it is mentioned, not as a town, but as a territorial possession, conferred by Robert Bruce on his devoted follower Sir Robert Boyd. Prior to this it had been the property of Balliol, Edward's nominee to the Scottish throne, on whose fall it was thus gifted by his more successful and more patriotic competitor.

The first Charter erecting Kilmarnock into a Burgh of Barony was granted in 1591, in favour of Thomas, the fifth Lord Boyd. A second was obtained in 1672, in favour of William, the first Earl of Kilmarnock, whose Grandson, the third Earl, in 1700, give a Charter to the Town of the whole Common Good, Customs, &c. Since that period, but more especially since about the close of the last century, Kilmarnock has gradually risen into its present importance as a manufacturing town.

The principal departments of its manufactures are Weaving, Muslin, and Carpet, in the latter, as also in the Bonnet making, it is known to excel—who has not heard of the far-famed Kilmarnock Bonnets! There is likewise a very extensive trade carried on in Calico Printing, and Shoe making, of which large quantities are annually exported to all parts of the world.

We have said that Kilmarnock is unnoticed in early history, it will not, therefore, be expected to contain many very interesting relics of antiquity, nor indeed does it; almost the only object of interest in this respect is the Dean Castle, the ancient seat of the Boyd family. Its mouldering walls tell the tale of other days. The Castle consists of two edifices, of different styles of building, one apparently very ancient, the other comparatively modern. It was accidentally burned in 1735; ten years after, Earl Kilmarnock was involved in the unsuccessful rebellion of 1745, and expiated on the scaffold the criminality of the rash act. But though not rich in historical reminiscence there is one circumstance, which to the lovers of old Scotia, sheds over Kilmarnock an interest far surpassing aught with which hoar antiquity could invest it. Here were first published the immortal lays of him

> Who seized his Country's lyre,
> With ardent grasp and strong;
> And made his soul of fire,
> Dissolve itself in song,

We need not say that it is the Ayrshire Bard, Robert Burns, that is here referred to. The fact that the Kilmarnock press first gave to the world the deathless works of our National Bard imparts to our Town an interest infinitely transcending any which the mouldering remains of feudal greatness could throw over it.

Kilmarnock is now the principal manufacturing town in Ayrshire, and judging from the numerous Railways which are about to intersect it; from the New Works which are about to be erected; and from the increased demand for Coal, of which it can at all times command a plentiful supply, there is every probability that Kilmarnock will still further increase in wealth and population, and become a formidable rival to the famed "Metropolis of the West."

A Post-Office Directory for Kilmarnock and Neighbourhood, has long been felt to be a desideratum, and strangers have often expressed their surprise that such a spirited town should not be possessed of that which is a necessary appendage to every great commercial comunity. The Letter-Carriers in presenting this first fruit of their labours to the public, would solicit the indulgence of all, not only for the long time they have taken to collate it, but also for any little inaccuracies which may have crept into it, on account of its being their first attempt at Editorship.

Should the Public deem their work necessary, and worthy of patronage, they will endeavour, as in every large town in the kingdom, to publish one yearly, and perhaps on a scale more worthy of support.

Kilmarnock, 17th Feb., 1846.

LETTERS NOT TO BE SEALED WITH WAX WHEN SENT TO WARM CLIMATES.

The practice of Sealing Letters passing to and from the East and West Indies, and other warm Climates, with Wax is attended with much inconvenience, and frequently with serious injury to the Letters, in consequence of the melting of the Wax, and adhesion of the Letters to each other,

In the case of Mails received from India, considerable delay is occasioned; and notwithstanding the greatest care is taken in separating the Letters, which, owing to the cause already mentioned, adhere closely together, many are much damaged and torn; the public are therefore recommended in all cases to use Wafers in preference to Wax in securing the Letters sent to India, or other warm Climates, and also to advise their Correspondents in those Countries to pursue the same course.

ASTRONOMICAL OBSERVATORY,

Thomas Morton, Esq., Proprietor and Keeper.

The Observatory is situated upon the most elevated part of Kilmarnock, and commands an extensive view of the surrounding country. On the top is a huge Telescope, constructed on the Newtonian principle, its speculum being 9 and a half inches, and its focal length 9 feet 2 inches. Numberless are the improvements which Mr Morton's ingenuity has effected upon this colossal instrument, and its equal is not to be seen in Scotland. Attached to it is a very fine Camera Obscura also made by the gifted Proprietor.

PICTURE GALLERY.

William Tannock, Esq., Proprietor and Keeper.

Mr Tannock's Picture Gallery, Grange street, is one of those institutions of which the inhabitants of Kilmarnock may be proud, and which is calculated to elevate the moral and intellectual feelings of all who visit it. Three rooms are literally filled with Pictures, chiefly by the old Masters, and a combination of these, with a numberless variety of unique articles, "rich and rare," give the Gallery a beautiful and picturesque appearance. As it is daily open for inspection, the Public would find a visit to it a treat of no ordinary description.

GLASS AND CHINA WAREHOUSE,

—— 65 KING STREET. ——

S. STEVEN

REFERS with pleasure to the results of his past efforts to merit a share of Public Support as an evidence that his promises have been ratified by performance, and would point to those results as the best guarantee that his most strenuous exertions will be devoted to secure a continuance of that patronage so liberally bestowed.

By a scrupulous adhereance to the salutary and satisfactory system of business with which he opened this Establishment, he has gained the confidence, and is daily adding to the number of his customers.

The judicious assortment of Stock, and the large extent of Sales secure a regular succession of New and Fashionable Goods, the prices and quality of which will bear comparison with those of any house in the Trade.—No Credit is given, the lowest price is asked at first and if any article sold be found imperfect, it is exchanged or taken back.

Diseased and Healthy Lives Assured.

Medical, Invalid, and General Life Office,

25 Pall Mall, London, and 22 Nassau Street, Dublin.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL, £500,000.

THIS OFFICE WAS ESTABLISHED IN 1841, and possesses Tables, formed on a Sientific basis, for the Assurance of diseased Lives. The urgent necessity for an Institution like the present may be estimated by the statement that two-thirds of the population are not assurable as healthy lives, and that about one in five of the applicants to other Offices is declined on examination. Of the proposals accepted by this Society during the last three years nearly 300 had been rejected among upwards of 80 other offices. These cases came under the class of the most prevalent diseases, and the various parties could not have participated in the advantages of Life Assurance had not this Society been in existence, as it is the ONLY ONE possessing tabulated rates of Premium, deduced from extensive data.

Premiums have been determined for the assurance of persons at every age, among those afflicted with consumption, asthma, bronchitis, pneumonia, disease of the heart, apoplexy, paralysis, epilepsy, insanity, disease of the liver, dropsy, scorfula, gout, rheumatism, &c.

These circumstances induce the Directors to believe that by the establishment of this office they have conferred an important benefit upon those whose condition made such a provision as assurance necessary, and they are therefore led to expect a powerful support from the public. Increased annuities are granted on unsound lives. Healthy lives are assured at lower rates than at most other offices, and a capital of half a million sterling fully subscribed affords a complete guarantee for the fulfilment of the Society's engagements.

MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE.

SCOTTISH PROVIDENT INSTITUTION

For Life Assurance and Annuities.

14, St. Andrew Square, Edinburgh.
67, St. Vincent Street, Glasgow.

"WE do not hesitate to declare our conviction, that the MUTUAL system is the only one which the Public at large are concerned to support."—Chambers's Journal.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

THE Directors rely on the co-operation of the Members to disseminate a knowledge of the principles and consequent advantages of the Institution.

The Scottish Provident Institution is the only Office in which the benefit of Mutual Assurance can be obtained at a Moderate Premium.

The Premiums are about a fourth lower than in the other Mutual Offices—so that the same Premium which at age 30, is charged by them for an Assurance of £1000, will secure a Policy, in this Office, for £1230.

The Whole Profits are divisable among the Assured, on a peculiar principle, which is at once more safe, equitable, and favourable to good lives, than that in general use.

The number of Policies issued, since the commencement in 1837, exceeds that of any other Scottish Office of similar duration; and the Directors are enabled to state that the affairs are in a highly prosperous condition.

ANNUAL PREMIUM FOR ASSURANCE OF £100 AT DEATH.

(By both Scales the Assured to share in the Whole Profits.)

Age.	Payable for the whole of Life.	Payable for 21 Years only.	Age.	Payable for the whole of Life.	Payable for 21 Years only.
26	£1 18 6	£2 11 3	36	£2 8 2	£3 0 11

35	2 6 10	2 19 8	45	3 5 9	3 14 9

By the first of these Scales, a person of the age of 30 may secure £100 at death, for a yearly payment, during his life, of £2 1s. 6d. only.

By the second scale, he may secure the same sum at death, for a yearly premium of £2 14s. 6d., ceasing on his attaining the age of 50—being thus entirely relieved of payment before he has passed the prime of life, and that for nearly the same Premium as other Mutual or Participating Offices require for the whole of life.

ASSURANCES ON SINGLE PAYMENTS.

On such Policies a portion of the price may at any time be obtained on loan. The Directors invite a comparison of their Terms for such transactions.

AGENT for KILMARNOCK and Neighbourhood.

ADVERTISEMENT.

HAVING been upwards of Twelve Months established in business as Successor to Messrs. CRAWFORD and Son, I take this opportunity of tendering my thanks to the Public for the extensive patronage with which I have been favoured during that period.

In the Printing Department my numerous employers have never been in a single instance disappointed in having their orders executed precisely at the time stipulated.

In the Binding so great was the influx of work that a greater number of hands than could at the time be procured were found necessary, so that the work fell a little into arrear; but such arrangements have now been made, and the establisment is on such a footing, that orders in plain, substantial, or in the most elegant and superb patterns, can be executed at the shortest notice which the nature of the work allows.

As to general orders for Books and Periodicals I have never missed a Post in forwarding these, and I mean to continue the same prompt and exact course, so satisfactory to my employers and myself.

Every School-book used in the County, and all articles of Stationery, will be found at

No. 2 KING STREET,
